LONG TERM CREDIT
HINGES ON PARLEY

Object of Loan Is To Restore Confidence in German Business and End Withdrawals.

PARIS, July 10.—(Friday.)—(AP)—
The Echo de Paris said this morning that Dr. Hans Luther, president of the German Reichsbank who arrived here last night from London, was seeking a loan of 12,000,000,000 francs (about $480,000,000) from the reserve of France and England for Germany.

LONDON, July 9.—(AP)—Accompanied by Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, Dr. Hans Luther, president of the reichsbank, left this afternoon for Paris after a short conference with British financial leaders ostensibly over the projected long-term German loan.

It was understood that Mr. Norman's ultimate destination was Basel, Dr. Luther's plans to fly to Brussels tonight were abandoned in favor of a train and boat journey to Paris.
The reason for this change in plans was not disclosed.

The head of the reichsbank came to London earlier in the day by air and everything possible was done to shroud his arrival in secrecy. He and Mr. Norman hurried to the train after only a brief conference.

No Statement.

Despite the absence of an official statement concerning the visit of Dr.
Luther, it was understood in authoritative circles the German request for long-term credit ranging as high as 80,000,000 pounds (about $400,000,- 000) would be discussed further in Paris with the view of grouping the strong elements in British, French and American finance into an underwriting group.

This group would place huge sums at the disposal of Germany and thus strengthen the reichsbank position and exert a beneficial psychological effect on German business interests, whose withdrawals brought about the present acute situation in Germany.

The availability of long-term credit, observers declared, would have the effect of giving Germany a clearer breathing spell of relief from financial stringencies in order to meet a series of short-term commitments.

Although London was interested chiefly in the business of Dr. Luther, another development in the international situation attracted much attention.

The announcement that Hugh Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, would be the United States representative at the experts' moratorium conference here was warmly received.

Hopes were expressed that before the conference concluded, particularly if a meeting of major statesmen were decided upon later, Andrew W.
Mellon, American secretary of the treasury, would be asked to participate.

No Information.

Despite the fact that it was definitely known France had agreed to attend the London meeting which opens July 11, the British foreign office today still was without final official information about the French intentions.

The government decided to hold up invitations to other countries until the French have replied.

The press and other commentators voiced today between insistence that international finance still was in an extremely delicate position—as evidenced by the markets in Paris and London.

COTTON TRADERS ASK FARM BOARD TO STATE POLICY

Petition for Definite Declaration Seeks Clarification of Stand on Stabilization Supplies.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(AP)— Cotton traders have followed the course of wheat growers and dealers in petitioning for a definite farm board statement of policy on handling stabilization supplies during the new crop year.

Carl Williams, cotton member of the board, said today the requests of the Savannah, Memphis and Little Rock cotton exchanges have been taken under advisement and a new policy may be forthcoming before July 31.

Meanwhile, Senator Capper, republican of Kansas, received his demand that stabilization wheat be withheld absolutely from competition with the crop now being harvested. He asked for a "clear cut" statement, adding he would "keep hammering" to gain his point.

The board authorized purchases of 1,300,000 bales of cotton and more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat during periods of declining markets to stabilize prices.

After President Hoover had asked a reconsideration of policy, it said on July 1 it would limit wheat sales during this fiscal year to 60,000,000 bushels exclusive of sales to foreign governments now under consideration.

A year ago it promised not to sell cotton holdings during the 12 months ending next July 31.

Both farmers and traders as well as Vice President Curtis, Senator Capper, Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, the majority leader, have argued that stabilization holdings have a depressing market effect and prices would improve if the government holdings were retained.

Williams revealed today that unofficial conversations had been held on the possibility of selling wheat on credit to Germany, but said nothing tangible had resulted.

The board, willing, said Williams, to sell more creditable and reputable information the wheat and cotton it wants.
But Russia is not included. He added the Russian trading organization, Amtorg, had sought between 25,000 and 250,000 bales of cotton, but credit was refused because of the non-recognition of that country by the United States.

The cotton exchanges have not made any recommendations to the board for guiding stabilization policy during the new crop year. Their attitude, however, has been that existence of the proposal will advance the cause of international disarmament.

NATIONAL AIR TOUR LOSES THREE PLANES

Mummert's Mercury Chic Is Demolished in Crash Into Mountain.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 9.—(UP)—Three planes in the national air tour fell by the wayside today as the caravan moved from Huntington, W. Va., to Knoxville via Middlesboro, Kentucky.

The Mercury Chic, piloted by Harry C. Mummert, cracked up and was demolished on a mountain northeast of Middlesboro. Pilots arriving here said. They reported Mummert had escaped injury.

Eddie Schreider, 10-year-old boy pilot who had been rated third among the contesting pilots, made a forced and damaging landing 15 miles north of Middlesboro. Available information indicated he also escaped injury, but that the plane will be disassembled and taken to Middlesboro by truck.

Joe Meehan, Ironton, Ohio, pilot, reported he was down in a field between Middlesboro and Knoxville, and was waiting for a shift in the wind.

James Smart, piloting a Ford tri-motor, arrived first here today and was announced as leading the tour, according to Referee Jimmy Doolittle. Doolittle preceded the officials here.

VICTIM OF AIR CRASH
DELIVERED NEAR DEATH

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, July 9.—(UP)—Charles F. Sufi, 31, Detroit, national air tour pilot, who crashed yesterday at Yorkville, was in a "very grave" condition in a hospital today. Attendants said he had little hope for his recovery from a skull fracture and internal injuries.

AMERICANISM STAND
OF HOOVER IS PRAISED

UNIVERSITY, Va., July 9.—(UP)—John Spargo, Old Bennington, Vt., lecturer and writer, told the Institute of Public Affairs tonight that the supreme intellectual challenge of our time has its polar centers at Moscow and Washington and is personified by Stalin and Hoover, hand in hand by Hoover upon the other.

He asserted that "the greatest menace to this country today does not come from Moscow, with its red legions threatening world revolution. It comes from no external foe but from within our own borders. . . . You have to be careful of the well-meaning but misguided enthusiasts in our own midst, who, forgetting or ignoring the great lessons of history, would have us depart from the socialized individualism which has made us what we are, masters of a life that is increasing in dignity and fair, to others discredited socialist principles from which can come nothing except poorer living and servitude."

He expressed doubt as to whether private property and individual enterprise are the best foundations upon which to build a socialist order, nor does he bring ostracism as an enemy of society as it did only a short time ago, Mr. Spargo said. Launching into an attack upon the principle of government ownership of industries, or any activities which would bring the government in competition with private business, he said that their method of accounting would show "the vast superiority of private enterprise, the almost unvarying wastefulness and extravagance of government industry and business." The speaker added that even if government operations were more economical, the social effect of its competition with private citizens would be "evil and deplorable."

"Dictatorship, absolutism, might achieve industrial efficiency and the elimination of political but representative government can. Heaven help this nation if any one of our major industries is ever made subject to direction by the congress of the United States," he added.

"Siamese" Babies
Said Recovering
After Operation

BALTIMORE, July 9.—(UP)—Baltimore's "Siamese" twins, severed by an operation called unparalleled in local medical history, were alive and apparently recovering today.

Physicians at Mercy hospital, where the operation was performed yesterday, said the sisters, who weighed four and a half pounds each, had a good chance to pull through.

However, other operations are in prospect as they had only a single colon.

Dr. Kyle W. Goller, Dr. Edward P. Smith and Dr. Daniel J. Pessagno were in charge of the birth and the operation.

The babies were joined by a thick, fleshy ligament, said Dr. Goller. "It was necessary to operate to save the mother, so we cut the ligament."

"We found the babies had a colon in common, contained in the flesh which joined them. We called in Dr. Pessagno, surgeon, and he confirmed our operation to save the babies."

MILLS WILLING TO PAY
FOR COTTON BAGGING

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 9.—(UP)—W. M. McLaurine, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, said today that the offer of a number of mills to pay for seven pounds of additional cotton when the bale was wrapped with "100 per cent" cotton bagging was rapidly growing in popularity.

A long list of mills were included in the original statement of the offer. Since then the following mills, among others, have joined the movement, Mr. McLaurine announced:

Malson Manufacturing Company, Macon; Georgia Union Manufacturing Company, Union Point, Ga.; Hawkinsville Cotton Mills, Hawkinsville, Ga.; Malson Braided Cord Company, Athens, Ga.; Talladega Cotton Factory, Talladega, Ala.; Indian Head Mills of Alabama, Cordova, Ala.

MONROE, La., July 9.—(UP)—Edward Sullivan, 44, one of seven members of a fatal drinking party, died here yesterday. He was the sixth death from denatured alcohol consumed at the party Monday night. Dominie Desormier was in a critical condition at a hospital and was not expected to live.

The bronze tablet bears a tribute by Admiral Byrd to Unalaska. "A faithful leader and a true friend; he never turned back."

CAPONE REPORTED IN RACING VENTURE

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—The Chicago Herald and Examiner said today that Alphonse Capone has gone into the horse racing business on the eve of his departure for a government pension.

The paper said that members of Capone's organization admitted they propose to convert their legally-banned dog racing tracks in their territory to law-protected tracks for horse racing.

Capone recently pleaded guilty in federal court to charges of violating the liquor and income tax laws but was allowed 30 days to put his affairs in shape before receiving the sentence.

Joe Meehan, Ironton, Ohio, pilot, reported he was down in a field between Middlesboro and Knoxville, and was waiting for a shift in the wind.

POISON ALCOHOL TAKES 6TH LIFE

BROCKTON, Mass., July 9.—(UP)—Edward Sullivan, 44, one of seven members of a fatal drinking party, died here yesterday. He was the sixth death from denatured alcohol consumed at the party Monday night. Dominie Desormier was in a critical condition at a hospital and was not expected to live.

The bronze tablet bears a tribute by Admiral Byrd to Unalaska. "A faithful leader and a true friend; he never turned back."

CAPONE REPORTED IN RACING VENTURE

CHICAGO, July 9.—(UP)—The Chicago Herald and Examiner said today that Alphonse Capone has gone into the horse racing business on the eve of his departure for a government pension.

The paper said that members of Capone's organization admitted they propose to convert their legally-banned dog racing tracks in their territory to law-protected tracks for horse racing.

Capone recently pleaded guilty in federal court to charges of violating the liquor and income tax laws but was allowed 30 days to put his affairs in shape before receiving the sentence.

Joe Meehan, Ironton, Ohio, pilot, reported he was down in a field between Middlesboro and Knoxville, and was waiting for a shift in the wind.

James Smart, piloting a Ford tri-motor, arrived first here today and was announced as leading the tour, according to Referee Jimmy Doolittle. Doolittle preceded the officials here.

VICTIM OF AIR CRASH
DELIVERED NEAR DEATH

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, July 9.—(UP)—Charles F. Sufi, 31, Detroit, national air tour pilot, who crashed yesterday at Yorkville, was in a "very grave" condition in a hospital today. Attendants said he had little hope for his recovery from a skull fracture and internal injuries.

UNIVERSITY, Va., July 9.—(UP)—John Spargo, Old Bennington, Vt., lecturer and writer, told the Institute of Public Affairs tonight that the supreme intellectual challenge of our time has its polar centers at Moscow and Washington and is personified by Stalin and Hoover, hand in hand by Hoover upon the other.

He asserted that "the greatest menace to this country today does not come from Moscow, with its red legions threatening world revolution. It comes from no external foe but from within our own borders. . . . You have to be careful of the well-meaning but misguided enthusiasts in our own midst, who, forgetting or ignoring the great lessons of history, would have us depart from the socialized individualism which has made us what we are, masters of a life that is increasing in dignity and fair, to others discredited socialist principles from which can come nothing except poorer living and servitude."

He expressed doubt as to whether private property and individual enterprise are the best foundations upon which to build a socialist order, nor does he bring ostracism as an enemy of society as it did only a short time ago, Mr. Spargo said. Launching into an attack upon the principle of government ownership of industries, or any activities which would bring the government in competition with private business, he said that their method of accounting would show "the vast superiority of private enterprise, the almost unvarying wastefulness and extravagance of government industry and business." The speaker added that even if government operations were more economical, the social effect of its competition with private citizens would be "evil and deplorable."

"Dictatorship, absolutism, might achieve industrial efficiency and the elimination of political but representative government can. Heaven help this nation if any one of our major industries is ever made subject to direction by the congress of the United States," he added.

"Siamese" Babies
Said Recovering
After Operation

BALTIMORE, July 9.—(UP)—Baltimore's "Siamese" twins, severed by an operation called unparalleled in local medical history, were alive and apparently recovering today.

Physicians at Mercy hospital, where the operation was performed yesterday, said the sisters, who weighed four and a half pounds each, had a good chance to pull through.

However, other operations are in prospect as they had only a single colon.

Dr. Kyle W. Goller, Dr. Edward P. Smith and Dr. Daniel J. Pessagno were in charge of the birth and the operation.

"We found the babies had a colon in common, contained in the flesh which joined them. We called in Dr. Pessagno, surgeon, and he confirmed our operation to save the babies."

FOR COTTON BAGGING

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 9.—(UP)—W. M. McLaurine, secretary of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, said today that the offer of a number of mills to pay for seven pounds of additional cotton when the bale was wrapped with "100 per cent" cotton bagging was rapidly growing in popularity.

A long list of mills were included in the original statement of the offer. Since then the following mills, among others, have joined the movement, Mr. McLaurine announced:

Malson Manufacturing Company, Macon; Georgia Union Manufacturing Company, Union Point, Ga.; Hawkinsville Cotton Mills, Hawkinsville, Ga.; Malson Braided Cord Company, Athens, Ga.; Talladega Cotton Factory, Talladega, Ala.; Indian Head Mills of Alabama, Cordova, Ala.

MANY DUTIES TO KEEP HOOVER NEAR CAPITAL

President's Hopes for Trip to California Disappointed by Problems.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(AP)—The hopes which President Hoover may have entertained for going to his California home this summer have been lessened by recent developments in the capital.

Regular week-end trips to his Rapidan camp in the Virginia mountains are expected to break the strain of dealing with the many complex problems which he found on his desk when he returned from the successful negotiation of his war debt relief proposal.

Some of these problems are:

Governmental study of the coal industry, which began today in a conference of coal operators with Secretary Lamont.

The giant wheat surplus from last year's crop partly held by the farm board and the threat of another this year.

A treasury deficit of nearly $1,000,000,000.

The completion of a study of all government departments looking to a curtailment of federal expenses.

Appointment of an ambassador to Denmark and a number of less important appointments.

Preliminary study of the part the United States will play in the Geneva disarmament conference in February.

Final action on a large number of recommendations by the tariff commission.

Preparation of a speech which he probably will deliver in Yorktown on October.

Outlining of his message to congress, which will deal with a large number of important domestic issues as well as with his recent proposal to declare a reparations-war debt holiday.

Atlanta Boys Win First Awards In Napoleonic Coach Model Contest

Winners of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild contest with Mayor Key, who announced the results in the competition Thursday. Robert A. Miller (left) won first place in the junior division, and St. Elmo Wilson (center) was the winner in the senior division.

Two Atlanta boys won first awards in the junior and senior grades of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. The award was announced at the termination of the judging of 13 models that were on display from various points in the state of Georgia. The competition consisted of building a miniature model Napoleonic coach according to specifications and working plans given the boys last year when the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild was organized, and competition was open to boys from 12 to 19 years of age, inclusive.

St. Elmo Wilson, of 850 Vedado way, won first award in the senior division of the competition, which was $50 and a trip to Detroit as a prize. Robert A. Miller, of 645 Peachtree drive, won a similar award for the first place in the junior grade with a score of 296 1/2 points out of the possible 500.

Second place winner in the senior grade, which carried an award of $50, was won by Eugene Pullen, of McRae, Ga., with a score of 317 points. Second place in the junior division was won by St. Elmo Wilson, of Athens, Ga., with a score of 249 points. This award also amounted to $50 in cash.

The four miniature model Napoleonic coaches made by these boys will be entered in the national competition in Detroit in August, the national competition being open to the best four model coaches being built in each state. From this competition the national awards of four university scholarships of four years each and valued at $5,000 will be announced. The final Detroit decision will be announced the latter part of August.

The winners of the state of Georgia competition were made known immediately after Mayor James L. Key, of Atlanta, broke the seal on the official envelope that carried the names of the winners. The tag which was the duplicate of the tag tied to the coach during the period of judging.

Beside the four major winners in the state of Georgia, the following craftsmanship awards were also announced, these awards being based on the ability of the boy to excel in any one of the following: Metalcraft, paintercraft, woodcraft, and trimcraft.

In the senior division D. H. Schueneman, of Savannah, Ga., won first award in the following: Metalcraft, which award carried a value of $10 with the exception of trimcraft, which was $20, an additional $10 being placed on this award by Collins & Aikman, upholstery manufacturers of Chicago, who furnished the material used in interior trim of the coach model. The total amount won by Schueneman was $50. Second place winner in the various crafts in the senior division was captured by John R. Temple, of Hartwell, Ga. Each of these four crafts carried an award of $5 each.

In the junior grade Artimus Rufin, of Thomaston, Ga., won second place in woodcraft of $5; second place in metalcraft of $5; first place in trimcraft of $20, of which $10 was offered by Collins & Aikman, and second award in paintercraft, which was $5, of which $10 was offered by W. W. Greene, of Augusta, Ga., won $35 in awards based on the various crafts by scoring first in woodcraft, which was $10; first in metalcraft, another $10; second in trimcraft of $5, and another in paintercraft which also carried a $5 award.

Second place was won by G. C. Traweek, official judge of the guild from Detroit, who was assisted by Professor R. G. Sawyer, of Georgia School of Technology, and C. R. Townsend, director of manual training at O'Keefe Junior High school.

'BAMA SENATE BEATS RACING AND NEAR BEER

Governor's Veto of Mutual Bill Sustained 20 to 8.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 9.—(AP)—Governor B. M. Miller today returned to the Alabama senate with his bill to legalize horse racing, which was introduced in the Edgar bill for a referendum on the sale or possession of any cereal beverages that "look like, smell like or taste like beer."

After a brief skirmish, Senator Bonner moved to table the motion by Senator Teasley, of Montgomery, to strike out the bill from the adverse calendar and the motion prevailed, 11-13.

Senator Bonner, in opposing the bill, defended the Rev. Mr. Inzer, who take the near-beer referendum from the adverse calendar also lost.

The vote followed a heated debate between the veteran senator, John Craft, author of the bill, and Senator J. Miller Bonner, in which the opening prayer by the Rev. John W. Inzer, of the First Baptist church, of Montgomery, was brought into the argument.

In his message to the senate, Governor Miller said he had vetoed the measure as "I cannot conceive of a more vicious law."

"I believe that we have come here under the guidance of the teachings of Jesus Christ to lob out of this cloth," Senator Craft, author of the bill, said. "I have the courage to raise my voice in a plea that the church and the government be kept separate."

Senator Bonner, in opposing the bill, defended the Rev. Mr. Inzer, who in his opening prayer expressed the wish that "the senate today will not cast a single vote in favor of any measure that will hurt the good name of Alabama. . . . And will cast their votes for God and not for the friendship of a man."

With the fight on the racing question finished for the session, the senate then turned to Senator Teasley's motion to take from the adverse calendar the Edgar bill for a referendum on the sale or possession of any cereal beverages that "look like, smell like or taste like beer."

After a brief skirmish, Senator Bonner moved to table the motion by Senator Teasley, of Montgomery, to strike out the bill from the adverse calendar and the motion prevailed, 11-13.

Now Atlanta women know the difference between MILK BREAD and just Plain White Bread

TWO little words tell the whole story. You'll find them on the Merita wrapper. But you won't find them on any other bread sold in this town that we have been able to discover.

For those two words are Government controlled. The Pure Food and Drugs Act put teeth into the regulation forbidding anyone to call ordinary white bread "Milk Bread." Unless the bread contains the body-building, health-giving food-value of whole milk, in proportions fixed by Federal and State regulations, it is not Milk Bread, and cannot be advertised as such.

Pay no attention to confusing claims about milk in bread. There is just one sure test: Does the label carry the words Milk Bread? Then it is Milk Bread. Are those vital words missing? Then it is just plain bread.

Buy Merita Milk Bread at your grocer's—for health, for rich flavor, and because it brings you the most food-value for your money of any bread you can buy.

American Woman Writer Declares Soviet Women Starved for Beauty

BY ROGER BACHELDER.

(Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Russian woman once sparkled like champagne, but today she reminds one of stale beer, according to Eve Garrette Grady, wife of an American engineer, who was deported because she wrote for an American periodical an article containing crack about Stalin.

She is chuckling now, for when her book "Russia, Friend and its Name is 'Seeing Red'"—she will have evened things with the soviets.

"And that is not all," she said. "I want the women of America to know what the women of Russia are finding in their 'emancipation.' It is more like incarceration."

She sat in her hotel apartment, bristling. An experienced writer, she had set down in uncompromising words her thoughts of people who, she says, dragged an American woman out of the bathtub because she was wearing a bikini.

"You have lost the charm of the Russian lady," Mrs. Grady reminded. "Visitors to the country have said she had the chic and vivacity of the Viennese, the passion of the Italian, the grace, the finesse, the knowledge of the arts of love of the French aristocracy."

"I found these Russian ladies hidden away in small, squalid rooms on some obscure streets, clad in draped, patched, ancient garments, but with nails nicely manicured and hair perfectly coiffured, even if they had just finished their day's work of carrying the embargo of the proletariat to the trucks."

"Men came, tall, broad-shouldered men, who by the shuffling stoop of their walk and the cut of their garments, sought to camouflage the fact that they were gentlemen."

"It would not be convenient for us if the G. P. U. (the soviet secret service) knew we met to drink tea together," they said.

There are only these furtive parties, according to Mrs. Grady, and few attend.

"Sometimes they have a windfall of a few rubles, a few coins, and if this comes, there are caviar, cold herring, anchovies and potato salad. At a grand party one finds an omelette, even though eggs cost a quarter each. All are merry, for there may come the knock at the door and tomorrow . . ."

Mrs. Grady said the soviets wanted to bring up all children in the Spartan fashion, but that the plan had not worked.

"The break-up of the family started when women received full pay with men," she asserted.

"There is no theory about social and moral equality. There are no clubs for men only, no smoking rooms for men; and girls may enter men's dormitories in the schools any time of night without stigma."

"These women are not gold-diggers; they have principles and stamina. But they have seen life and are down to rock bottom. Some of them find that in spite of themselves they are daughters of Eve, and to their secret shame and amazement they see the apple and must eat it."

WHITE HOUSE GUARDS SCATTER COAL MINERS

Source of Unauthorized Stories Is Investigated by White House

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(P)—The White House today was conducting an investigation into the sources of several published news stories which did not come through official channels.

The inquiry centered particularly on a story concerning President Hoover's sudden departure from his Rapidan camp on Sunday and was directed at several secret service men and newspaper reporters assigned to the White House.

The attitude of the White House, as expressed today, was that any stories concerning the president, or the White House, should come through the regular official channels. In this way, it was explained, the newspapermen would receive the same news at the same time. It was said at the White House that such a system was not considered a censorship.

The story which first aroused executive ire is told how Mr. Hoover ordered his car and departed quickly for the capital, leaving secret service men and other White House attaches to scramble for hastily summoned automobiles, some of them putting on their clothes as they ran.

The story related of a hastily prepared lunch sent after the chief executive in a fast car which caught up with him 30 miles away. It also told of how the chief executive made the run from Camp-Rapidan to Washington in two hours and a half. The distance is slightly over 100 miles and part of the trip was over a narrow country dirt road.

Individual secret service operatives attached to the White House were at the camp have been asked to talk with the reporters. Several newspapermen assigned to cover the White House also have been approached by investigators.

Chief Moran, of the United States secret service, called at the White House yesterday and held a long conference with Lawrence Richey, one summer

Throughout the week-end the utmost secrecy was maintained as to what was taking place at the camp.

Efforts of reporters to talk with the only secret service men at the camp were futile. Marine officers reported that Mr. Richey was out, or that he was too busy to talk. Theodore Joslin, the secretary who generally handles White House news, was not at the camp.

A CHALLENGE TO HOOVER.

It is the opinion of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, leader of the Senate democrats, that President Hoover should now announce his readiness to co-operate with the congress in reducing the extragencies of the Hoover-Grundy tariff law.The president made that law with a side-bar grimace and a direct intimation that he would look to the tariff commission to work the "flexible clause" to save the country from the evil trade embargoes written into the act by the protectionist racketeers of the industrial areas.But the tariff commission has almost totally failed him, if he had any genuine hope that it would ever function up to his intimation. The tariff continues to be the Hoover-Grundy "steer in the gap" and the business of the nation is still suffering tremendous losses at home and abroad because of it.Many of the manufacturers who believed the Grundy formula was going to be a great business boomer have found it turned out to be an awful boomerang instead. It has knocked come into large sections of the home market and great gaps in the foreign markets, producing more than any other cause the widespread trade depression from which all the interests of the country have been suffering and through which the people are still stumbling.The conviction is voiced everywhere now that the police and the courts are principally responsible for the 36,000 automobile deaths recorded for the last 12 months.Next to them in responsibility are

ONE OF THE 3,000?

Each time a person sits behind the wheel of an automobile he or she is advised by the automobile associations to ask the question:
"Am I to be one of the 3,000 who will be killed by one of these cars this month?"The average of such deaths by motor vehicles is now 3,000 per month, with an increasing upward trend in spite of all safety devices on the cars and all traffic regulations. The rate is appalling to those who know how needless are most of the deaths recorded by the daily newspaper and police reports.The causes assigned for the fatalities are many, but the most common cause is the reckless driving by persons afflicted with speed mania and utterly disregardful of traffic rules both in the cities and on the public highways.If any other disease plague were collecting 3,000 lives a month in this country, every preventive agency of city, state and national governments would be intensively employed to stop the disease and its ravages upon human life. The freedom of people to spread the plague would be drastically cut down by sternly penal legislation.An examination of the records of traffic courts all over the country reveals that most of them operate farically so far as curbing the reckless, the drunken, and the incompetent drivers of automobiles upon the highways. They are frequently no more agencies to collect minimum fines to go into the city or county funds. Such small money penalties have failed obviously to put either caution or dread into the automobile maniacs.
They continue to drive like crazy persons and kill without penalty.The conviction is voiced everywhere now that the police and the courts are principally responsible for the 36,000 automobile deaths recorded for the last 12 months.
Next to them in responsibility are the legislatures that refuse to enact driver license laws and laws to mandatorily punish operators of cars who are incompetent, such as

French Wine
In Danger.The small French farmer, who is a great political force, asks for protection for his wheat against the foreigner, and he has got it. He is ask-

AUGUSTA GAS RATE HEARING ADJOURNED

City Will Answer Argument of Power Company on July 22.

A hearing to determine if gas rates fixed for Augusta by the Georgia public service commission are confiscatory, being held before I. Stiles Hopkins, special master of federal court, adjourned Thursday afternoon to be reopened July 22.

The adjournment came after the Georgia Public Utilities Company of Augusta completed the presentation of evidence attempting to show that the valuation placed on its plant of $1,450,000 is correct. It is expected that this will be the target of the counter-attack of the city of Augusta and the commission when the hearing is reopened.

The gas company Thursday spent the greater part of its time in giving evidence as to the details of operating expenses and completed its case. Attorneys Ben B. Boynton, of Chicago; E. W. Moise, of Atlanta, and George Jackson, of Augusta, representing the company, asked that the hearing be adjourned after the presentation of evidence against rates ordered by the commission. A temporary injunction was granted and the master ordered to determine if the rates were confiscatory as alleged.

40 Atlanta Girls See Arizona On Motor Bus Tour Over West

More than 40 Atlanta girls who left here June 15 for a motor bus tour of the country to the Pacific coast as part of the Georgia Caravans to see the great splendor of the famous Petrified Forest of Arizona, it was learned Thursday in a letter received from Mrs. B. M. Boykin, director of the girls' division of the tour.

The boys' division, which left Atlanta three days following the departure of the girls, is "now on the west," nearby, the itineraries of the two divisions being arranged so that the two groups travel at different times and meet at certain outstanding points of interest. The tour of the Georgia Caravans is an annual affair, having for its purpose a visual education of boys and girls of geographical sections of interest.

Mrs. Boykin's letter, dated July 2, stated that the girls' division spent the night in the unusual forest.

"Having visited the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest, etc.," relates, "and enjoyed the glory of that vast acreage, we journeyed over the Red river section of New Mexico.

"The Red Indians and Santa Fe, we now feel quite ready for civilization again."

In a telegram received Thursday from Yuma, Ariz., Mrs. Boykin reveals that the caravan has passed "by walls of bronze giant cacti and 20 miles of desert. We will pass the Imperial desert and see the sand dunes outside of Yuma. The temperature here today was 116 degrees. Jane King and Emma Kate Hyatt, of Columbus, received burns of no serious consequence. Frances Jones fell from her horse and was only slightly hurt. We are all right again and headed for Old Mexico to see the sights, including a bull fight."

ECONOMY IS KEYNOTE OF FLORIDA SESSION

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 9.—(P)—Economy and revenue measures vied with lesser proposals Wednesday as the Florida senate shovved up to 67 its list of bills introduced in the first two days of the current second extraordinary session.

Suggested economies included graduated reductions in salaries of state officials and employees, consolidation of those states with other offices, and reductions in compensation allowed county fee officers.

Bills proposing consolidation of the state offices contained provisions that the combined offices turn over 25 percent of their gross collections to the general treasury for other state expenses.

The departments proposed to be abolished were the game and fresh water fish commission, and the state forester's office. The duties of the two would be placed upon the state shell fish commissioner. Abolishment of the state hotel commission and placing its duties upon the state board of health was proposed in another bill.

Creation of a state tax commission to supervise assessment of property for taxation was termed by sponsors the "leading revenue measure." A similar bill was introduced at the regular and first special session, but did not advance to final adoption.

Under terms of the new three-member commission, appointed by the governor, would supervise county assessments of real and personal property with a view to getting all taxable property on the assessment rolls.

The minimum of the commission would be paid $7,500 annually, plus necessary expenses.

The two other members would be paid $5,000 plus necessary expenses.

Salary reductions for state officials were proposed in two bills. One introduced by Senator N. W. McEvilley, chairman of the appropriations committee, contained the same schedule of slashes agreed upon by the senate in the first special session. The bill was not considered by the house.

Starting with the governor, whose salary would be reduced from $10,000 to $9,000 a year, the bill listed all major officials. Justices of the supreme court would be cut from $9,600 to $8,000 and circuit judges from $7,500 to $6,500.

VERA CRUZ PRIESTS
LOSE COURT PLEAS

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—(P)—Petitions for injunction against application of the Vera Cruz state law placing restrictions on the church, filed by Catholic priests of Vera Cruz in all the district courts of the country, were rejected today by the six district courts of Mexico city.

The courts held the matter was one for direct reference to the Vera Cruz state legislature rather than to the tribunals and that inasmuch as the petitioners have not been ejected from their churches they have not been directly affected by the law, limiting the number of priests in Vera Cruz to 11.

Petitions are still pending in 42 district courts outside of Mexico City.

SENATE TO GET NEW SEWER BILL

Reagan and Weekes Will Offer Plan for Referendum Today.

The Atlanta sanitary district bill, providing for the creation of a special sewerage district in the metropolitan area, took care of a critical situation brought about by the difficulties will be introduced today in the senate by Senators E. L. Reagan, of the 35th, and John Wesley Weekes, of the 34th.

The Reagan-Weekes bill provides for the referendum of the people in metropolitan Atlanta on the question of bonding the district for sanitary purposes and paying the bonds with a special tax. The ground-work has been laid in the form of a topographical survey of the area.

The Wilson state auditor, Thursday was requested by the senate to collect from all departments, boards and institutions of the state information showing total expenditures, the salaries and expenses of employees and officials, and details of personnel of all state paid by each department, commission board, bureau or institution to its attorneys or any attorneys during the period from January 1, 1931, to June 30, 1931.

Statement on Suits Asked.

The information requested in a resolution introduced by Senator Roy Harris, of the 18th, is similar in nature to that furnished the extra-session committee of the senate for consideration since the printing of the extra-session report. The Harris resolution also provides for a statement as to all suits in litigation pending and affecting the state, Senator E. E. Deakle, of the 6th, providing for the 52d senatorial district, was tabled, and an effort to remove the bill from the docket by a vote of 16 to 21. The district would compose part of the present sixth.

A report of senators that the fuel tax bill by Senator J. F. Pruitt, of the 32d, would create an additional salary of $4,200 a year, resulted in the bill being tabled by a vote of 20 to 9. An explanation of the bill was made by Senator Harris, who said the present tax and fuel tax that an additional job would be created. A move to take the bill from the table succeeded when President W. Cecil Neill decided a tie vote, and the bill then passed by a vote of 43 to 0. It would provide for monthly instead of quarterly payments of occupational fuel taxes to the counties.

Suit Vane Fixed.
The senate passed a bill fixing the venue of all suits against the highway, one and adopted two local bills, one authorizing the Valdosta public school system to borrow money to pay teachers, and the other creating the office of commissioner of roads and revenues for each county, where the ordinary now handles the duties of the commissioners.

Indorsement of Edgar B. Dunlap, of Gainesville, for the office of national commander of the American Legion was voted by the upper house in a resolution offered by Senator Linton West of the 35th. The election will take place at the September convention in Detroit.

Senator Buell Stark, of the 43d, introduced a bill to require all quasi-public corporations to make financial reports to state auditors.

Senator Deakle, chairman of the appropriations committee, drew attention of the senate to the printed budget bill placed on the senate desks Thursday morning, and asked that a careful study be made of the new vision of the budget bill go to work on the bill as soon as it is received from the house, and will try to avoid an early Sunday morning session on the last day, he said.

RUDY "ORDINARY," BRIDE REVEALS

put the word croon into the musical dictionary and wrote his own biography for the screen and book publishers under the title "Vagabond Dreams of Rudy." Mrs. Valerie said in the course of her first interview, "I never have been jealous and I never will be."

Then she added: "If Rudy can behave while I'm away out in California, why I guess he will be quite right here. I regard him as just an ordinary man."

Rudy himself, surrounded by a mob of reporters, explained that his success with women was not altogether due to his eligibility as a husband. He gives the credit to his art.

As for why they got married, Mrs. Valerie said:

"I'm lonely out in California, and so was Rudy, anyway telephone calls cost so much."

She was heavily made up for her camera and press interview, so much so that Rudy explained to the reporters:

"I may look a little theatrical now, but Betty is really just a home girl. She's not going to do any more moving picture work. She's a domestic little person and can cook—although," he added last night, "I haven't eaten any of her cooking yet."

He might as well not interfere with his work for his contracts won't permit it. So there will be no honeymoon. But he and Mrs. Valerie intend to sneak away to Atlantic City over the week-end. And then there is that home always waiting for him. A home with a wife in it.

"We intend to have children," the bride said.

VALLEE GROOMING SELF FOR EXECUTIVE DUTIES

NEW YORK, July 9.—(AP)—Now that Rudy Vallee is married, he says he's preparing to cast aside the megaphone through which he sang his way to success.

His radio contracts run until 1932, with another year's option, but in the meantime he is grooming himself to be an executive in the projected radio city.

Short and picking talent, orchestras and such for a radio studio is really what I am interested in," said Vallee.

This includes special pressure cookers which can speed up cooking to a considerable degree. The kitchen is the only one which facilities originally designed to feed 1,000 men, although in 1918 this was enlarged to take care of 2,000 persons. Nearly 12,000 meals daily, however, now are the requirement of the prison's kitchen.

GRAND HOTEL

BY VICKI BAUM.

LAST INSTALLMENT.

"It's enough," he said to himself. "How long have I to put up with it? And what's the use? No, we'll make an end of it." He got up, and found his little case. He washed the syringe and broke the tops of one glass tube after another. Ten of them—twelve. He filled the tube, and washed his arm, which was covered with little inflamed wounds from the needle. Then he paused. He began to tremble. All the strength ran out of his hands. He emptied the syringe with out using it, with the exception of a few drops which he applied to the cramps of his nerves. Then he lay down again, fell asleep, and heard nothing more.

Count Roha emerged from his room just after half-past three, after being called up by the night porter, noiseless and circumspect, just as though it were broad daylight. He stopped in the lobby. No, the room was all in at a glance, and gave the necessary directions. He ordered a cognac for the shattered Preysing. He stood for a quarter of a minute with folded hands and bowed head. It looked as though he was praying, and perhaps he indeed was. His eyes were closed. His equal by birth, and like him, an ostentatious. Then he went into his little office and began to talk on the telephone with Police Commissioner Jadice.

A little later, appeared four gentlemen in overcoats, who bore the unpleasant names of the "Murder Committee." Roha, who had been waiting in the elevator to the second floor. The hotel management begged the police to use discretion in order to avoid a scandal, to hush things up, if possible. But there is just chance that this courageous "moribundus" may develop fresh resources and remain alive in spite of every diagnosis. That in the case of Flammchen's brother and Kringlein, who also in ecstasy, wished to believe it too. And, after all, it is not so very important how long Kringlein has to live. For long or short, life is what you put into it. Two full days may be longer than 40 empty years. That was the thought. Kringlein took his way with him when he stepped out of the Grand hotel at Flammchen's side and got into the taxi that took them to the station.

It was then 10 o'clock in the morning.

"Any letters for me?" asked Oterschlag.

"I am afraid not. Nothing today. Herr Doktor, the hall porter said.

"No, Herr Doktor."

"Anyone inquired for me?"

"No. No one so far." "Is Herr Kringlein still in his room?" he asked.

"No. Herr Kringlein has left."

"Left? Where? Did he leave nothing?" he asked, after a pause.

"No. Nothing. I am afraid," Georgi replied, with a politeness copied from the hall porter.

Dr. Oterschlag turned about and went back to his room. He sat in the middle of the lounge, a strong image of Loneliness and Death. He has his pen in his hand, and so he stays on. His yellow hands hang down like lead, and with his glass eye he stares out into the street which is full of sunshine that he cannot see.

The revolving door turns and turns . . . and swings . . . and swings . . . and swings.

THE END.

Social Workers Protest Abolition of Department

Macon and Savannah Groups Condemn Proposal in Legislative Bill.

MACON, Ga., July 9.—(P)—Reorganization of the various departments of the state without the inclusion of the functions of the department of public welfare was characterized in resolutions offered today by the Social Workers' Club of Macon and by the trustees of the Masonic Home of Georgia, as leading to "crime and delinquency" and "one of the most stupendous calamities that could befall our citizens."

The trustees met at noon for their quarterly session and discussed the abolishing of the state welfare department. The resolution is being sent to Governor R. B. Russell Jr. and to the general assembly.

"Realizing that such action would affect the welfare of the state," the resolution read, "with its program for underprivileged children throughout the state, but effect in like manner every other similar institution, and after full discussion of this important question, the board went on record as being opposed to abolishing the state board of public welfare. Proper provision should be made transferring its work and authority to some other department of the state which could carry on the great work that this board is now doing."

"We feel that the existence of this board with its authority serves as the barrier of protection for every child that must of necessity occupy one of the orphanages in this state, and to remove this prop would be one of the most stupendous calamities that could befall our citizenry. The children committed to the care of these institutions should certainly have the strong arm of the state to uphold and guide them, and it must be admitted that guidance is necessary."

SAVANNAH WORKERS TO SEND PROTESTS

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 9.—(P)—Some of the local Social Workers' Club protested today against the proposed abolition of the state department of public welfare as intended in bill now before the general assembly, and will send their protest to Governor Russell and others.

The wording of the proposed bill particularly annoyed the local social workers, who explained that if it were found necessary to abolish the department as a measure of economy, its functions and duties could be transferred to the board of control of eleemosynary institutions, until such time as the state's finances become better.

The state public welfare department, the discussion brought out, was the clearing house for all information about welfare work in the state and was frequently called upon by local institutions for assistance and information. It particularly looked after the interests of homeless children, they assert.

OFFICE CONSOLIDATION SOUGHT FOR LOWNDES

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 9.—(P)—A bill will be introduced in the legislature to abolish the offices of tax receiver and tax collector for Lowndes county.

In the same bill it will be provided that the position of tax collector be created to transact the business of both offices, to provide for the salary of the commissioner and such assistants as may be needed and to create an authority by which tax is to be levied and collected.

Automobile Burned As Well as Payment

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 9.—The Rev. E. M. S. Bell, colored preacher of Ridgeland, was driving into the city. His car caught fire and he had to stop to make a hasty effort to extinguish the blaze.

That was bad enough, but it isn't all of Bell's worries. In the hurry of getting out of the car, he left behind a coat. And in a pocket of the coat was $25, which he was taking into the city to meet a payment on an "article."

Air Passenger Stirs Mechanics With Shorts

Folks out at Candler field Thursday at first thought he might have lost his pants in an aerial poker game, but Alden Freeman, Santo Domingo hotel proprietor, soon explained all about it. Where he comes from down on the island of Haiti—Mr. Freeman explained, it's much too hot to wear pants, even when you decide to fly back to the States.

So Mr. Freeman decided to fly as the islander flies or walks in shorts or what have you. That's the way he was when he stepped out of an American Airways plane, en route for Los Angeles. He avers that shorts are just the thing to fly in. One doesn't have to worry about tearing one's pants if the parachute doesn't open. So he dressed himself in his shorts, a poncho shirt, and knee-length golf

Floods Cause Fliers To Miss Boat for U.S.

Johnny Carithers Signs With Crackers; Shortstop Is Sought; Five Atlantans, Three Savannahans Battle for State Crown

CARITHERS BACK, SIGNS TO PITCH FOR CRACKERS

Shortstop Is Sought To Bolster Club for Stretch Drive.

By Ralph McGill.

Rell J. Spiller, vice president, busied himself with the search for the Crackers, returned home Thursday after a three-day sojourn in the wilderness. He brought in Johnny Carithers in person and word of a short stop whom he expects to get today.

Johnny Carithers, young southpaw pitcher, had some fitting things to say, the boys say, in his pitching for Palmetto in the Palmetto league.

Spiller gave the vital statistics as follows: In 20 games Carithers has won 16, lost 3, struck out 105 men and looked good generally.

He was very promptly placed on the list, there being a vacant spot for him in the club.

TO PLAY SOON.

Carithers is expected to appear in the lineup during the Chattanooga series as a relief pitcher. The Crackers could use one. The "B" pitchers, with one exception, have not been very helpful.

There is no getting around that record. Winning 16 games out of 20 and striking out 105 men is quite a record in any league. Carithers was with the Crackers in the spring. He is a former Georgia pitcher.

The new shortstop to be brought in for a trial immediately if he is signed. He is a "B" shortstop, Johnny Ryan, regular shortstop, was forced to retire from Thursday night's game because of a bad wrist and could use a little rest. The identity of the new shortstop has not been revealed.

Andy Chambers, former University of Georgia pitcher who finished with the Crackers last season, reported Saturday. He is expected to be put in the lineup the latter part of the week. Chambers was late reporting, having been a student at Harvard, where he studied farm economics with a view of finding a place on the federal farm board. He has one more year of school.

NO EARLY CHANGES.

The Crackers contemplated no immediate changes unless the new infielder is obtained. And he will not be until he has had time to look on for a while.

"I have faith in the club," said Johnny Dobbs. "I think we will get going. We missed Taitt Thursday night. An injured thumb, hurt in going after a ground ball in the outfield, Wednesday night, prevented his playing.

We are also playing without Chick Autry. O'Connell is doing a good job catching in a relief capacity but we miss Autry."

The Crackers have been so broken by injuries that the club has been unable to keep a winning stride once.

The Lookouts are here through Saturday. On Sunday the club plays in Mobile. Monday is an off-day but on Tuesday Mobile comes to Spiller field for a series which will be concluded on Saturday.

LONDONS WINS.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 9.—(UP)—Jim Londons, recognized as heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Duke Chick Toledo, in two straight falls here tonight. Londons weighed 198; Chick 190.

A barnstorming tour is one thing. A heavyweight championship is something else. At least, it is supposed he is. Carithers is supposed to be good enough to whip Schmeling, he has to be good enough first to whip Schaaf or Campolo. There isn't any argument to this.

(Special Dispatch to The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.)

The Rougher Road.

We who have known the rougher road, the tougher road ahead—
We who have seen our dreams break up and vanish, like the dead—
We who have seen brave hopes fade out when everything went wrong,
Still have dim ghosts of fighting days to carry us along.

Those Cracker hills we climbed, to almost reach the top,
The slogging, bitter drive we made before we had to drop;
And then the long, hard climb once more through sorrow and through pain.

To find somewhere along the trail the peak was barred again.
What have we gathered from these years of struggle and defeat?
Why have we had so little time to find that life is sweet?
We only know our souls are schooled to live among the bold,
We only know our hearts are trained for all that hell might hold.

Some day perhaps we'll stand beneath the stars that crown our sky;
Some day the world around may know our winning battle cry;
But all we know is sword on shield above the silenced song,
And haunting ghosts of fighting days to carry us along.

The Home Run War.

There are more things going than golf championships and heavyweight prize fights. Here is our old friend, the Bounding Bambino, still in the midst of a great home run struggle with Chuck Klein and Lou Gehrig who were barely in high school when the Babe was setting his first record 12 years ago. He is this year.

It is this year that the record is being set. In 20 games Carithers has won 16, lost 3, struck out 105 men and looked good generally.

He was very promptly placed on the list, there being a vacant spot for him in the club.

Schmeling's Next Opponent.

The answer to that has been that Max Schmeling's next opponent is to be Primo Carnera. Naturally the first question is—how much will this draw? It might do extremely well if Primo Carnera first whipped him a great fight, which in the end will be a big part of the season's story.

Lookouts Take First of Series From Crackers

LOOKOUTS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES FROM CRACKERS

Atlanta Bats Fail; Andrus Leads Chattanooga to 5-1 Victory.

Those Crackers took one right on the goatee Thursday night at Spiller field as the Lookouts won the opening game of the series.

The Crackers, playing without the services of Poco Taitt, the Idaho potato masher, out with a bad thumb, failed to hit in the pinches and the Lookouts didn't. Therein lies the story of the game.

BUNNY KAYOED.

Bunny Hines was punched around a bit in the first four innings. In the second round Bill Andrus, a rookie slugger, draped him on the ropes with a home run with a mate on base. A few minutes later an error added to his gogginess. A double by McMillan later, when Andrus appeared again and popped out. "I will not mention it again," said Cousin Joe, "but he is a great hitter."

Great Tennis Day Seen in Pro Meet

Tilden Prophesies Brilliant Play As Seeded Eight Advance According to Dope.

By William T. Tilden, 2d, World's Professional Champion.

Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.

FOREST HILLS, L. I., July 9.—One of the greatest days of tennis has been staged since the West Side Tennis Club opened will be witnessed here tomorrow when the last eight of the professional championship meet in singles and doubles following today's intensive play that left only the seeded stars still in the running.

Tomorrow's schedule brings the decisive match between Vincent Richards against Bobby Selder at 1 o'clock. The great English star, Albert Burke, meets Howard Kinsey at 2:15, followed by the feature match of the day, when Karel Kozelech plays Francis T. Hunter, the man who is racing the last single with the day closing with a great double in which Burke and Kozelech play Charlie Wood and Paul Heston. Seldon has such an array of talent been offered, even at Forest Hills.

VINCENT CUTS LOOSE.

Vincent—Richards, the defending champion, out loses in his match with Paul Heston today and opened up his attacking style, coming in rapidly and with a lightning Richards was not quite as impressive as against Behr on Wednesday, but showed he is in great condition. Heston's finely produced game could not upset the command that Richards held at all times and the champion showed he was ready for a big test to come.

It seems to me as if Richards is working up slowly to his net attack. He seems to be developing his ground shots for his probable meeting with Kozelech, realizing that only by swiping shot until the chance to go in comes along can the Czech champion be beaten. He was not impressed by the steadiness of Richards' backhand under pressure from Heston.

Karel Kozelech was unusually serious in his match with Rudolph Noble, to whom he yielded but two games. He seemed to wish to waste no strength and get through as soon as possible, so as to save his efforts for his big match next week. Kozelech was hitting hard off both fore and back hand, at times even going to the net.

PARE DRIVES.

Emmett Pare outdrove Basil Marquie as he rushed through his match to enter the last eight. It was Pare's great drive on the ground that gave him his victory.

Frank Hunter, in an evidently high-powered preparation for his big battle with Kozelech, crushed young Jimmy Burns in 18 consecutive games. Hunter's terrific forehand drive was at its best and shattered the Burns' defense as well.

Wood vs. Kinsey's continuously purr-ed spin that held command against Charlie Wood. In the first set Wood had himself in trouble from the beginning due to his own errors, which presented Kinsey with a love set. Wood's errors cost him a lead of 4-2 in the second set, which he should have won, the third set Wood led 4-2 and also won it 5-3, but sheer fatigue led him to double-fault away the vital chance and it was 4-all.

QUEEN MATCH.

Wood had a 15-14 advantage against Kinsey's delivery, but three service aces saved the game. Then Kinsey ran out to the match point at 15, but his own errors saved Wood for the moment. Hunter, after Kinsey pulled it out, 6-4, 8-6, was in a match full of clever tactics by both men, with interesting use of the varied spin, but there was little or no clean hard hitting.

Albert Burke used his match against John Cardena, whom he beat 6-4, 6-4, as a make-up game for his divorce. He used a little net attack but tuned up his deep court sweeping drives for his match with Kinsey. He seemed to me to be steadily improving and should hit his best form against the Californian.

My pick for the winners of tomorrow's singles match is Richards, probably a night match. Burke after a very close battle with Kinsey, Kozelech in four sets from Hunter with an outside chance that Hunter may win, and myself.

Lindstrom Breaks Bone in Left Ankle

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—(UP)—Freddy Lindstrom, star outfielder of the New York Giants, broke his left ankle today, sliding into first base in the fifth inning of the New York-Philadelphia game.

Lindstrom was carried from the field and taken to a hospital to have the ankle x-rayed. At the hospital it was found a small bone at the top of the instep had been fractured.

The injury is expected to keep Lindstrom out of the game for at least three weeks, dealing the Giants' National League pennant hopes a severe blow. Lindstrom, who was converted into an outfielder this season, was one of the big guns in the New York batting attack and had earned the reputation of being one of the best fly chasers in the league.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.
NEW YORK, July 9.—(P)—Stocks had difficulty deciding which way to go today and the uncertainty kept them in a narrow rut.

After rallying and sagging alternately the market closed higher. Fractional gains were the rule in the favorite issues. Sales totaled 1,500,000 shares.

Commodities manifested weakness which was discouraging in view of their strength only a week or so ago. Cotton, at its lowest, was off about $1.50 a bale under active selling prompted by easiness in Liverpool, rains in the southwest and rumors later that the farm market was liquidating. Cleaning quotations were $11.10 to $12.50 a bale lower. Wheat was depressed 1.2 to 1.38 net. July corn dropped sharply, but September's losses were small and December closed a shade higher.

The visits of the Reichsbank's president to London and Paris in preparation of a new conference provided the chief topic of conversation in Wall Street, which believed Dr. Luther would be accommodated with an amount sufficient to meet Germany's needs. It seemed inevitable to bankers that the $100,000,000 short term credit, expiring a week from today, would be renewed.

The weekly statement of the Reichsbank was most encouraging, showing the gold imports and redressess for the gold ratio rose to 43.6 per cent compared with the legal minimum of 40 per cent so closely approximated a week ago.

Oil virtually stood still, while the rail section made a reasonably good showing.

United States Steel closed at 96.78, up 3.4. There were similar net gains in American Can, Republic, Biscuit, General Motors, Allied Chemical, Case, North American and American Telephone, Western Union, Borden, Consolidated Gas and Chrysler were up a point.

The reserve banks pursued less aggressively in the last week their new policy of buying government securities, for the gain was only about $4,500,000. Holdings of the New York banks were down $24,000,000 in a week of declining stock values and there were no large new bond offerings to stimulate borrowing.

Improvement of the German mark favored the foreign exchange.

U. S. EXPORTS DECLINE DURING MONTH OF MAY

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(P)—American exports during May were $23,827,300 in excess of imports, the commerce department announced today in making public foreign trade figures by countries and grand divisions.

Exports totaled $203,000,503 and imports $180,163,530. This compares with exports during May, 1930, of $320,034,349, and imports of $284,652,511.

Exports to and imports from all grand divisions showed a heavy drop as compared with the same month in 1930.

Noted Painter Abandons 'Greats' To Portray Beauty of U. S. Women

NEW YORK, July 9.—(AP)—Dario Rappaport, Vienna's portrayer of the great men of the world, has decided to paint the great for the beautiful. He intends to do this work on a motor trip of this country to paint on canvas America's women, "most of whom are very pretty."

"They have excellent figures. "Now of them are fat or ungainly," he said. "Their faces are sensitive with spirit and fine expression. They are beautiful. Therefore they are easy to portray."

"The average American girl, as far as I've been able to see, is better dressed than the average girl of any other country. Even the little youngsters making only the smallest salaries are costumed with good taste."

Mr. Rappaport has spent the last four or five months in Manhattan, where he maintains a studio, painting his subjects, but which was soon afterward denied, said the Prince of Wales and Prince George had been gassed while watching a sham battle between units of the guards in the Aldershot district.

The women, he said, are leading the men in civic and social life. It may not be long, he believes, before this country is matriarchal.
